ABSTRACT

Unity and national integration has been the main agenda of the Malaysian government, especially the country's leaders up till the present time. Various slogans, mottoes and programs have been organized for the purpose of fostering unity and relationship among races by means of various policies that have been planned. It is indeed appropriate that Malaysian citizens play an active, positive role as agents in reducing conflict among races on one hand and increasing unity among them on the other. Malaysia has been very fortunate as it possesses a wealth of diverse cultures, religions and languages. The idea of 1Malaysia put forward by the Prime Minister of Malaysia, Najib Tun Razak gives importance to the slogan "People First, Performance Now". Do Malaysian youth understand this message of the Prime Minister? What are the roles and the challenges that need to be given attention by the youth groups in their efforts to realize this noble aspiration? Hence, this article will discuss the roles of youth and some major challenges which they might encounter while promoting the 1Malaysia concept.
