

Hegels Logic

In the sphere of Being, when somewhat becomes another, the somewhat has vanished

In Being, everything is immediate

In the passage of different into different in Essence, the different does not vanish: the different terms remain in their relation

In Essence, everything is relative

The movement of the Concept is development: by which that only is explicit which is already implicitly present

The movement of the Concept is no longer either a transition into, or a reflection on something else, but Development
